Hunger games		Suzanne Collins	I really loved the book because there was a lot of intense scenes. For example when Katness first entered the arena everyone was racing to get to the weapons and people were already dead at that time from being killed by others. It was super exciting for me because I couldn't stop reading it and another part I liked was when Katness was fighting that crazy girl that was on someone's team and then that black guy came up and stabbed the girl and said to Katness that she was lucky. He only helped Katness because Katness took care of rue and at least tried to save her from getting killed.	Gwendolyn W.
Deep And Dark And Dangerous		Mary Downing hahn	I loved Deep and Dark and Dangerous because it was pretty scary, the girls in the book seems very real. Sissy, the girl that supposedly died in the lake turned into a ghost and would 'pretend' to be real. Sissy would play with Ally which is one of the girls. Ally never seemed suspicious of Sissy so she would follow what Sissy would do like how a sister is little and would follow what your big sister does. They took a summer vacation to a lake with a creepy cabin that the mother and aunt used to go to when they were kids. This book seemed very detailed with what they're saying and it seems very real and scary.	Kayla S
Scat, Flush, Chomp. Almost Home. The Night Gardener.		Carl Hiaasen. Joan B	This books all have drama, suspense, and mystery in them. They were/are good reads and they teach you life lessons.	Allyson Biel
The savvy series, the guardians of ga'hool series, deep blue series, and Harry Potter series.		Ingrid Law, Kathryn L	There are more I love that mostly have adventure and suspense. Those books have a lot of adventure and there are a lot of problems in those books. They were also interesting.	Anna P
The Hidden Summer		Gin Phillips	These kids in the book just want a break so the get one and leave home.	Alicya C.
